ARIANNE MEIJER

QUANTUM COMPUTING RESEARCHER

Currently, I am a researcher at University of Turku researching quantum software in preparation of starting a PhD in 2021. I have two master's degrees: one in Artificial Intelligence (with cum laude distinction), and one in Computer Science. I have obtained practical experience at many different companies and published two papers [1, 4].

ACTIVITIES

I love to challenge myself both creatively and intellectually. I particularly enjoy combining established techniques in new ways. This can easily be seen in my crafts.

Or in the words of Spoonboy from the Matrix (1999):
Do not try and think outside the box, that's impossible. Instead, only try to realize the truth... There is no box.
